

María Francisca Pérez Veyl

Diagonal Paraguay 257

Santiago - Chile

Phone: + 56 2 2978 3556

Email: mperezve@fen.uchile.cl

Education

Ph.D. in Economics, Boston University, Boston MA, July 2014

Dissertation Title: Three Essays on Firm Dynamics and Macroeconomics

Dissertation Committee: Francois Gourio, Simon Gilchrist, Alisdair McKay, Bernardino Palazzo

M.A., Political Economy, Boston University, May 2012

B.A., Economics, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, December 2003

Dissertation Title: Asimetría en la Respuesta de los Precios: El Caso Chileno

Main advisor: Rodrigo Cerda

Fields of Interest

Macroeconomics (labor markets, firm dynamics and cyclical fluctuations) and Asset Pricing

Work Experience

Postdoctoral Researcher, Faculty of Economy and Business, Department of Economics, Universidad de Chile, August 2018 - current

Senior Economist, Macroeconomic Analysis Unit, Ministry of Finance of Chile, August 2014 - June 2018

Research Assistant for Francois Gourio and Leena Rudanko, Boston University, 2011 - 2012

Research Analyst, Research Department, Macroeconomic Analysis Area, Central Bank of Chile, February 2008 - August 2009

Research Analyst, Research Department, CorpBanca Bank, March 2005 - January 2008

Research Assistant for Cristóbal Aninat, School of Government, Universidad Adolfo Ibañez, February 2004 - February 2005

Working Papers

“Estimated Dynamic Industry Equilibrium Model with Firing Costs and Subcontracting,” January 2019.

“Business Cycles and Asset Prices with Capital Adjustment Costs,” August 2018.

“Do Firm-Level Shocks Generate Aggregate Fluctuations? A Cross-Country Analysis,” (joint with Shuheng Lin), March 2018.

Work in Progress

“Why outsource when you can automate? Industrial robotics and its impact on global value chains” (joint with Alejandro Micco)

“Climbing the job ladder in a dual labor market” (joint with Alejandro Micco)

“VAT enforcement spillovers on employment formalization” (joint with Alejandro Micco and Patricio Toro)

“Employer-employee data base in Chile: what can we learn?” (joint with Cristóbal Huneeus and Federico Huneeus)

Teaching Experience

- Instructor, Intermediate Macroeconomics (undergraduate level), Faculty of Economy and Business, Universidad de Chile, Summer 2015-current
- Instructor, Labor Economics (graduate level), Faculty of Economy and Business, Universidad de Chile, Spring 2015-current
- Instructor, Public Finance (graduate level), Department of Economics, Universidad Diego Portales, Fall 2016-current
- Teaching Fellow, Financial Economics, Institutions in Historical Perspective and Intermediate Microeconomic Analysis, Economics Department, Boston University, Spring 2014

Fellowships, Awards and Grants

- Postdoctoral Scholarship Conicyt (National Commission for Scientific and Technological Research), March 2019-March 2021
- Teaching Fellowship, Boston University, Spring 2014
- Fellow of the Dean of Arts and Sciences, Boston University, 2009-2013
- Scholarship Conicyt (National Commission for Scientific and Technological Research), Ph.D Program, October 2009-August 2013
- Scholarship Price Waterhouse & Coopers, academic excellence award, second year B.A. in Economics, Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile, 1999

Presentations

- 2nd IZA/World Bank/NJD Conference on Jobs and Development: Improving Jobs Outcomes in Developing Countries, June 2019.
- Central Bank of Chile, August 2018.
- Department of Economics Seminar, Universidad de Chile, January 2015.
- Macroeconomics Lunch Workshop, Boston University, September 2013.

Computer Skills: Matlab, Stata, Dynare, L^AT_EX, Fortran and MS Office

Languages: Fluent in English, Spanish native speaker, Intermediate French